Orienteering

The orienteering map shows more detail than most other maps and is at 1:10,000 scale: 1cm on the map is equivalent to 100m on the ground. You should first of all study it carefully so that you understand what all the symbols mean. You will notice that on the map there are a set of numbered circles and a triangle/double circle. The circles are the sites of control posts, the triangle/double circle is the start/finish. At each site there is a 2ft post with a red and white "flag" symbol, a number corresponding to that on the map and a letter, which is used for competition orienteering.

Associated with each control is a control description, giving you an idea of what to look for when you get close to the control site.

No.	Description	No.	Description	No.	Description
1	Path Junction	8	Stone	15	Earth wall end
2	Gate	9	Bridge	16	Earth wall bend
3	Thicket west side	10	Ditch Edge	17	Depression
4	Playground edge	11	Gate	18	Small Knoll
5	Fence Corner	12	Path Junction	19	Ruin
6	Spur north side	13	Gully	20	Re-entrant
7	Stone	14	Stream	21	Path Junction

The aim of orienteering is to visit, in order, a number of these control sites by navigating with the map. You should start and finish where the triangle and double circle symbol is shown on the map - this is where the path meets the road near the entrance to the old stables.

There are seven suggested courses you can try, or you can just take a walk and find any of the controls:

When you get to each control you should check that the number corresponds to that on your map.
